Ken is a great resource for my clients. Most businesses do not survive the death of the principle. They may have the wisest insurance program in place, but the benefits may only add to the confusion upon the death of the principle or partner. The clients I have referred to Ken were extremely impressed with his knowledge and skill. Most of my clients actually report sleeping better at night knowing that their directives will help their families and businesses prosper even when they are gone. Ken will keep the IRS and your in-laws out of your pocket. Frank Kennedy Senior Marketing Executive at Scirocco Group July
